AIRSHIP BROUGHT DOWN BY BATTERY

Zeppelin Was Enveloped in Flames and Later Loud Explosion Was Heard.

(By Associated Press.)
Petrograd (via London), Dec. 14.—Russian artillery destroyed a Zeppelin the night of Dec. 5, according to details which have just arrived here, near the station of Kalkun on the Libau-Romnin Railroad.

The dirigible made its appearance from the direction of Novo Alexandrsk, passing over the Russian positions going toward Dvinsk. It was located by a powerful searchlight and Russian artillery opened fire on it. The Zeppelin then, however, rose to a higher altitude and became lost in the clouds.

Presently the airship reappeared over Kalkun. Its motors had been stopped, which is usually the indication that bombs are about to be dropped. At that time the machine was directly over the railway station and the artillery began shelling it. One shell made a hit and the aircraft became enveloped in flames. Under the glare of the searchlights watchers saw it disappear in a cloud of smoke and heard a loud explosion.

What was left of the machine and inside the Russian lines. The charred bodies of the German crew were extricated from the debris and buried. A cross was erected over their grave with the inscription "Honor the brave, though they were enemies."
